Ahlam Ahmad al-Tamimi

Up to $5 Million Reward

Ahlam Ahmad al-Tamimi, a Jordanian citizen, is a convicted terrorist operative for HAMAS. On August 9, 2001, al-Tamimi transported a bomb and a HAMAS suicide bomber to a crowded Jerusalem Sbarro pizzeria, where the bomber detonated the explosives, killing 15 people, including seven children. Two American citizens were killed in the attack – Judith Shoshana Greenbaum, a pregnant 31-year-old school teacher from New Jersey, and Malka Chana Roth, a 15-year-old. Over 120 others were injured, including four Americans.

The Rewards for Justice Program is offering up to $5 million for information leading to al-Tamimi's arrest or conviction for her role in this attack, as part of the 1993 Violence in Opposition to the Middle East Peace Negotiations reward offer.
